There's a maxim that all should be willing (to mend)

Tis a true one, at hand one, as true as tis kind
Tis worthy of notice wherein you may roam
And no worse for the hearth if remembered (at home)

Should scandal or censure be raised 'gainst (a friend)
Be the last to believe it, the first to defend
Say, tomorrow will come and the time will (unfold)
That one's story's good till another's is told

He was shot in the head at day break & died from sunset to Glow. We didnt know much about him for there wasnt much to know He was just fresh from England & didnt quite know the ristz We got his name & number from is indentification disc.

He was only a bit of a youngster & yet he'd the heart of a man There was never a word or a murmer while his tiped days slowly ran.

We dug his grave in the twilight While his mates was standing to. But when it came to the service we didnt know what to do

So hower farther who art in heaven we all know how that goes We said twas hower only prerper I reckon

Our farther forwards

May the Rose of England never grow
May the Rhine Waters never flow
May the Harp of Erin never play
Till Kitcheners Army gets better pay

Our favourite verse

On Britain declarin' she wis gaun tae fight
Tae uphaud the standard o' justice an' right
The Sixth Gordon laddies in khaki tae braco
Ae fine day in August tae keith gaed away.

An' fowk in a hurry they baggit their bit,
For a bit o'a tussle they a' lookit fit,
Their freen's an' relations, wi' tears an' a sigh
Shook han's wi' them fondly an' bade them gweed-bye.

Tae mak' themsel's ready tae tackle the foe,
Wi' baggage they happy tae Bedford did go
For, nae doot, the heid-folk thought that gallont wee
Some hael o' the Empire wid hae tae defen'.

Tae fecht for their country ae day in November
(A day that the laddies for long will remember)
Efficient an' willin', wi' gun an' wi' lance,
They gaed o'er the Channel tae somewye in France.

Some months in the trenches 'mang mud tae the (knees)
Hell cauld wis the weather, the frost did them freeze,
Their real taste o warfare baur lots o' them fell.
Wis in the big battle at (Neuve Chapelle.)

Tho' the Sixt Gordon laddies fae bonnie Donside
Hae been praised an' admired the hale world wide,
There's faithers an' mithers an' widows will mourn
For dear ones who'd never again will return

Some friend bought Amy Tomlinson this book
She brought it here to let me look
And then she quickly took her book

She said to me with smile so bright
Now just sit down. please do, and write
Something to give my friends delight
Who read my Album

And so I have this task to do
And smile as though I like it too
So here's good health to all of you
Who read this album

May naught but good ere pass your door
And when your earthly task is over
May we all meet on the "Golden Shore"
With the owner of this Album
